Chinese Communist troop dispositions in North Korea as of 9 August were as follows:

13 Army Group

38 and 39 Armies on the line at the central front. These armies are soon to be incorporated into a new command known as the "Inland Operations Task Command."

40 Army, comprising the 118, 119, and 120 Divisions, on the line on the west central front.

41 Army, comprising the 121, 122, and 123 Divisions, deployed along the southwest coast of Hwanghae Province. This army, using cover designations and mixed North Korean and Chinese Communist units, was engaged in anti-guerrilla activity in this region.<sup>1</sup>

50 Army, formerly northwest of P'yongyang, had major elements stationed west of Sariwon.

10 Army Group

31 Army, comprising the 91, 92, and 93 Divisions, moved prior to 9 August into position behind the 15 Army in the P'yongyang area.<sup>2</sup>

9 Army Group

The 9 Army Group, to be incorporated into new "Inland Operation Task Command," was deployed as follows:
